

TOTALITARIAN DICTATORS PROJECT, PART I

DIRECTIONS: This is part one of a project on dictators in the interwar period and how they achieved and maintained power. With your group, answer the following questions as completely as possible. Make sure everyone in your group knows the answers inside and out.

1. Who is your leader?
2. Which country did your leader control?
3. What years did he have power?
4. How did your leader get the support of the people in the first place?
5. What did people criticize about his rule at the time?
6. How did your leader silence his critics?
7. How did your leader affect the economy? List at least three positive effects and three negative effects.
8. How did your leader unify the nation?
9. How did he convince people to be more nationalistic?
10. How did he convince the public that his critics were wrong?
11. How did your leader increase his country's power and prestige?
12. How did your leader hurt your country and other countries?

TOTALITARIAN DICTATORS PROJECT, PART I

DIRECTIONS: This is part one of a project on dictators in the interwar period and how they achieved and maintained power. With your group, answer the following questions as completely as possible. Make sure everyone in your group knows the answers inside and out.

1. Who is your leader?
2. Which country did your leader control?
3. What years did he have power?
4. How did your leader get the support of the people in the first place?
5. What did people criticize about his rule at the time?
6. How did your leader silence his critics?
7. How did your leader affect the economy? List at least three positive effects and three negative effects.
8. How did your leader unify the nation?
9. How did he convince people to be more nationalistic?
10. How did he convince the public that his critics were wrong?
11. How did your leader increase his country's power and prestige?
12. How did your leader hurt your country and other countries?